

Dear Fellow Kremenetsers, Shumskers, Vishnevetsers et al,

Sheree Roth and I are pleased to announce that the Kremenets Shtetl CO-OP's new Discussion List is now available on RootsWeb. It is easy to subscribe: Just click on one of the shortcut links below,

- Subscribe to UKR-KREMENETS-L
- Subscribe to UKR-KREMENETS-D \(digest\)

The Digest accumulates messages during the day and sends all of them to you in a single e-mail, instead of sending them one at a time as they come in.

If your browser doesn't understand these links, try these manual instructions:

- To join UKR-KREMENETS-L, send mail to UKR-KREMENETS-L-request@rootsweb.com with the single word subscribe in the message subject and body.
- To join UKR-KREMENETS-D, do the same thing with UKR-KREMENETS-D-request@rootsweb.com.

If you have any difficulty, contact me at UKR-KREMENETS-admin@rootsweb.com or at rondoctor@earthlink.net and I'll get you subscribed.

Once you are subscribed, you can post a message to the list by sending your e-mail to:

UKR-KREMENETS@rootsweb.com

Keep in mind that all messages posted to this mailing list also are added to the list archives on RootsWeb.com.

Until now, Sheree and I have been using e-mail to communicate with all of you whose ancestors came from Kremenets and surrounding shtetlach. That has worked ok, but it hasn't allowed for much open discussion among our 303 members. With the new list, members will be able to communicate directly without first going through Sheree or me.

We will use the list to discuss new developments in the various projects that we have underway. As most of you know, we are accumulating and translating genealogical and historical documents relating not just to Kremenets, but also to the surrounding shtetlach. Our Indexed Concordance of Personal Names and Town Names now has 693 town name entries, representing 4934 different towns. Besides Kremenets, here are the top 20 towns, each mentioned at least 200 times in the records.

Vishnevets	Rakhmanov
Shumskoye	Lanovtsy (Lanovets)
Katerinovka (Katerburg)	Berestechko
Chervonoarmeysk (Radzivilov)	Verba
Velikiye Berezhtsy (Berezhets/Brezits)	Ostrog
Yampol	Kozin
Dubno	Lutsk
Pochayev	Rivne (Rovno, Rowna)
Vyshgorodok	Olyka
Oleksinets	Pavlovka (Poritsk)

So, if your ancestors were from one of these towns (or the others in our Concordance), there is a good chance that we have records for you. We invite you to discuss this and other topics on our new List.

By the way, if you haven't visited our Kremenets Shtetlinks website recently, please be sure to take a look at it. Ben Buckwold and Adam Bronstein have done an excellent job of redesigning and updating the website ... but be patient, it takes time to add all the content that we have. To get to the website, point your browser to:

The searchable and soundexed Indexed Concordance is at:

<http://www.shtetlinks.jewishgen.org/Kremenets/web-pages/master-surnames.html>

We post updated versions regularly. We'll announce them on the Discussion List.

Sheree and I are looking forward to hearing from you.
